What is Sons d'Embat?

Sons d'Embat touches down in 2019 in the peninsular landscape of folk music. An ensemble led by the accordionist from Ontinyent (País Valencià) Pau Barbera with a diversified crew of 9 musicians from the Valencian Country, the Balearic Islands and Catalonia. They present a repertoire of their own songs, within the world music genre, with their own new musical language influenced by songs with Mediterranean and peninsular roots from different places that the embat, the wind that blows from sea to land, takes us. The Embat is a starting point emerging from the Mediterranean sea which enters our lands and goes beyond them, crossing borders, swelling the bellows of the accordion with its power. In this way, the unique sound of the diatonic accordion is produced to make in each land its own song.

Sixty minutes where we can listen to songs and musicians from Catalonia, Valencia, with arrangements from traditional Basque music such as the “Albiztur” fandango, tunes from Castile and León, all this is mixed with the polyphony of voices and melodies with a Celtic and Breton reminiscence.

Who are we?

We are square tambourines, tambourines, tabors, darbukas, flamenco cajón, kick drum, tabal, diatonic accordion, cello, gralla, tarota, flutes and the sweet and polyphonic voices, combined with this instrumental fusion leaves no one indifferent, transporting them on a musical journey, emotional and vibrant in all senses. Each rhythmic pattern, each harmony and each of the timbres presented here, they have has an emotional and artistic justification that allows us us envisage the influences that the musicians of Sons d'Embat have been received.

■ What do we offer?

Our show has an approximate duration of one hour with the full band format. However, we can always adapt to the requirements/needs of the place where we bring our show, with several formats:

- Sons d'Embat official: the most appetizing ensemble to listen to and see the whole band in action and with all the senses, because it requires the nine musicians on the stage. Musical success is guaranteed.

■ Pressupost

These prices include travel expenses for group members, basic allowances for members, and performance.

The price of the whole band (8 musicians + sound technician) is 2,500€ + I.V.A.

The final price is negotiable and will vary depending on the trip to the territory, accommodation and whether the festival includes the sound technician.
